

our internalized identities

a hierarchy of salience

identity salience

Identity salience

IDENTITY SALIENCE

- Identity theory says that our internalized identities are organized into a hierarchy of salience, with identity salience.
- Identity salience is defined as “the probability that an identity will be invoked across a variety of situations, or alternatively across persons in a given situation.

IDENTITY SALIENCE

