

structuration

Structuration

- Giddens seeks to analyze human action through the lens of social structures.
- He sees action and structure as dependent on each other.
- Theory of structuration argues that social structures exist through the way people use rules and resources.

Structuration

