

THE NMP

network the state

- rules adjudicating

IEMP MODEL

- The final network, "the state," is defined as a political network whose primary function is territorial regulation.
- Its usefulness in laying down rules and adjudicating disputes in specific territories is the source of its uniqueness.
- The state can take on other functions besides territorial regulation and has had varying degrees of influence at different phases of Western history.

AFTER TODAY, YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO EXPLAIN:

