

A close-up, slightly blurred portrait of Jürgen Habermas, an older man with white hair and glasses, resting his chin on his hand. The image is dark and serves as a background for the text.

Jürgen HABERMAS

- Jürgen Habermas (b. 1929) is a German sociologist and philosopher.
- Habermas was a student of Theodor Adorno, and a member of the Frankfurt School of critical theory, and perhaps one of the last of its great thinkers.
- Habermas is known for his work Theory of Communicative Action (1984, Volume I; 1987, Volume II).

Jürgen HABERMAS

