

not

Structuration

- In other words, social life is more than just random acts by people, but it also is not entirely determined by social forces.
- Thus, social life is not explained by micro-level or macro-level explanations.

STRUCTURATION