

PETER BLAU'S INEQUALITY AND HETEROGENEITY

HETEROGENEITY, INEQUALITY, AND INTERSECTIONALITY

- Peter Blau lays out what he calls a deductive, macrosociological theory of social structure.
- Social structure, for Blau, refers to "people's differences in social position among various lines," such as ethnicity, race, economic status, or education.
- The distribution of each social position within a society is extremely important, often mapped in a "Blau Space."
