

The Chicago School

- Also referred to as the “Ecological School,” the city of Chicago was the laboratory for exploring social interaction.
- The study of “man in his natural habitat” was the ecological metaphor used to frame urban social relations.
- The rise of American Pragmatism - aimed toward social reform and scientific social research.

George Herbert MEAD

