Habitus

- Habitus is physically and mentally internalized by a particular to a group of people (e.g., socio-economic class, etc.).
- As habitus is created by past experiences, early experiences have a large affect on a person's perceptions, even more than "objective" reality.
- For instance, I will reproduce, enact, and perpetuate habitus so long as I live and function within the upper-middle class.
