The eigenvectors and eigenvalues computed from the covariance matrix determine the principal components of the data.

PCA tries to put maximum possible information in the first component, then maximum remaining information in the second and so on, as shown here.